FOR THE HOUSEHOLD.

Bits of Information Which May Be of Value to the Busy Housewife.

Cloths used for oiling and waxing floors should be kept clean by soaking them for half an hour in a strong solution of salsoda. Stir with a stick. The water should be hot, and the cloths finally rinsed in the water that has a little oil in it, generally using two tablespoonfuls of oil to two quarts of water, says the Washington

In this connection, again, comes the word of warning against the whole sale use of old rags for cleaning purposes. It is a false economy to furnish domestics with frayed dusters, linty towels and mops and scrubbing cloths which fall to pieces in the using. A good share of the plumber's bills against which we inveigh so bitterly come by reason of these very rags and shreds, which soon clog the pipes leading from bath and sinks. Before commencing the spring cleaning the wise woman will see to it that an abundance of whole cleaning clotha, suitable for windows, woodwork and floors, are in readiness, and that as each day's work is finished the cloths are washed out and dried ready for the next day.

Allow to each pint of the meat onehalf pint scalded milk, one tablespoonful of butter, two tablespoonfuls of flour, a tablespoonful of chopped parsley, a teaspoonful of salt, a half teaspoonful of papper, a quarter teaspoonful of nutmeg or grated lemon peel, as preferred, and a teaspoonful of onion juice. Cook the butter and flour together, add the milk little by little until you have a thick, smooth paste. The seasoned meat is then added to the white sauce, mixed thoroughly, and the whole turned out to cool. When ready to use, mold into croquettes, dip first in beaten egg, then in fine bread crumbs and fry in smoking hot fat. Small potatoes which are wasteful to peel and cook with larger ones should be sorted out and utilized in salad. Boil these small tubers with their skins on and while still warm peel and slice thin. Mince parsley and onion very fine, just a little of each, and strew over the potatoes in the salad bowl. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, pour over two or three tablespoonfuls of best olive oil, and moisten with weak vinegar, adding water if necessary, that it may not be too sour. Potatoes may be used in combination with a number of things, such as pickled beets, a fresh cucumber sliced, a Dutch herring, cut up small, or a few sardines, minced. Only one of these things at a time, be it understood, and it should be may be garnished with pickled beet, chopped fine and put diagonally across the dish, or simply cut in fancy shapes, and lettuce leaves.

On ironing day, when the irons won't heat fast enough to supply the demand, try placing them on the pancake griddle set down close to the coals. The dripping pan turned over them will aid in conserving all the heat, even with doors and windows

The best scouring material for steel knives can be found in half a new potato and a little fine wood ashes. The potato is also much easier to use with bath brick than a bit of rag which the ordinary maid of all work is apt to employ for this purpose.

EXPOSITION A FAILURE

NUMBER 185

Success rinancial Now Lacking.

ADMISSION PRICE IS LOWERED

Attendance Increases Daily, but Only of Non-Paying Class.

Paris, Aug. 11.-This is the 119th day of the exposition and there only remain eighty-six days more before the closing time in November. The 20franc exposition bonds are quoted on the bourse at 7-francs. The depreciation of entrance tickets is such that it now costs only six cents to get into the show. Paris itself at last is forced to admit that the exposition lacks gayety and is a dismal financial failure, There is nevertheless a notable increase of visitors, an average of 40,000 daily over those of the previous week. Last Saturday there was only 118,198 paying vis tors; on Sunday the number paying entrance fees jumped to 379,333; on Monday there was 170,789; on Tuesday, 160,570; on Wednesday 150,045 and on Thursday 155,332. This increase is due to an invasion from Germany and Central Europe of third-class travelers, who, after they have paid 6 cents each to get into the exposition, wander about with brown paper parcels of sausages and brown bread, at which they nibble until they are through sight-seeing, and go away without expending an extra farthing.

Paris, Aug. 17.-The official announcement of the awards of the exposition juries will be made next Saturday. The occasion will be very imposing. The ceremonies will take place in the Salie des Fetes, and the president

The general commission of each coun try is expected to march to the place assigned, preceded by its national flag, guards, staff, etc. A magnificent musical programme has been arranged. At the same time decorations will be bestowed upon some members of the foreign commission. So great pressure has been brought to bear by those holding costly concessions that the authorities have finally agreed to a scaling of the prices originally fixed. A committee also has been appointed, consisting of M. Piquart, the commissioner general of the exposition, his directors, the managers of opera, the Opera Comique, Comedie Francaise and the Theatre du Chatelet, for the purpose of arranging a series of fetes.

The restaurant keepers are in despair, with bankruptcy staring them in the face. Today I noticed the head waiter of one of the best exposition restaurants flapping about with his napkin like a duck with one wing, as he saw in dismay an endless procession of Goths and Huns passing by his deserted tables, some of them even sitting on benches at his very door and devouring hard boiled eggs and ham sandwiches.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.

Store of the Santa Fe Mercantile Company Burned.

The Gaspar Ortiz block on San Francisco and Gaspar streets, opposite the First National bank, was wrecked by fire on Saturday night. It was chiefly occupied by the Santa Fe Mercantile company, Adolph Gastorf, manager, who carried a stock of dry goods and millinery, estimated to be worth about $28,000. The first alarm was sounded at about 11,30 o'clock. Vivian Pudila, night watchman at Conway's restaurant, was the first to give the alarm .-New Mexican.
